Staters Go To Polls on Propositions

Compulsory Annual Fee And Election System Will Be Decided By Voters

Yesterday and today all Staters had an opportunity at the polls to decide two important issues in their student life. Monday morning at nine o'clock the polls opened for business. Complete returns will not be available until the Friday issue of the Gater.

Proposition number one concerns the issue of a compulsory annual and the establishment of a fee to be paid at the beginning of each semester for that purpose. At the beginning of the autumn term every year, if the proposition is successful. 75c will be collected with the basic fees.

Proposition number two if successful will abolish the present system of nominations of class officers by petition and will set up a new method which calls for direct floor nominations. A definite number of the class members must be present at the meeting.

Both propositions, worded in full, can be read at various places in the college and on all bulletin boards.

All student officers were unanimous in their plea that as many students as possible should vote on these issues up for decision. Their importance was emphasized. It was pointed out that the vote of the student body on the Franciscan proposition alone was loaded with consequences no matter which way the vote went. A favorable vote will assure the financial security of future annuals and an unfavorable one will bring up many questions concerning the conduct of this publication in the future.

The whole set-up of class elections is being put to a test in proposition number two. It is an amendment to the new Student Constitution and if successful will return classes to much the same procedure used before the passage of the new document.

Varsity Party December 11

With tentative plans already formed for the Christmas Jinx or Varsity Party the committee members working on this social function state that the affair will be held the last night before the holidays, December 11.

According to the plans a WPA or student orchestra will provide the means for the music. Those working on the committee are as follows: Darryl Hopkins and Bill Ferem; however, others will be appointed later, according to Ruth Paulson, vice-president of the student body.

"This affair will be the best staged social function of the semester and the committee is anticipating the cooperation of the students to make this dance a financial success," stated Miss Paulson.

WEATHER POSTPONES W. A. A. FIELD DAY

Due to the rainy weather, the W. A. A. Play Day has been postponed until Saturday, November 7. The fifty-six participating high schools of the bay area were telegraphed of this change. In case of rain on this date, a rainy-day schedule consisting of games and relays to be held in the gym and annexes will be used.

Students to Wage Fight For College Funds

Students Urged To Sign Petitions — Present Building Held Unsafe

Signed petitions, with the entire student body of San Francisco State behind the fight, will go to the influential men of the State in order to obtain the much needed buildings and equipment for the school, it was decided last Friday at the giant mass rally.

Every member of the student body has joined in this fight to see that the proper authorities hear the cry of funds for the buildings.

Petitions Ready

Petitions are in the halls of Anderson, College and Frederic Burk so that all may sign, and will only be there until Wednesday afternoon.

Letters explaining the reason for the need of new buildings and how San Francisco State has missed out in the past few years for appropriations were put in all the mailboxes last Friday noon.

The signing of petitions started yesterday, after giving all a chance to think over the proposition, during the week-end.

The necessity to work fast and hard was pointed out by Harold Martin, State publicity director, in as much as the matter will come before the legislature in January.

Committee Formed

A committee will appear before Governor Merriam, Vierling Kersey, State director of education, Mr. Arlen Stockburger, State director of finance, as well as Mayor Rossi.

Letters of explanation and committees will also call on prominent local clubs and State's Parent Faculty club. The fact that State has doubled its enrollment in the past nine years and that the building facilities have not kept pace with this will be emphasized.

College Hall Condemned

It is a well-known fact that College Hall has been condemned for many years and is a firetrap to all. This will also be brought to the attention of local people.

For the past several years, California High schools have been condemned and permission to hold classes in them denied as they were deemed unsafe, because of slight cracks or deficiencies in the foundation. It was pointed out that State has had none of the advantages of even the more recently built high schools.

Wooden fire escapes are accepted by all as very unsafe, yet there is one in College Hall.

Petitions Go To Sacramento

As soon as the petitions are signed tomorrow afternoon they will be taken to Sacramento. Local clubs will be contacted at this time also.

"The most important thing is the signing of these petitions," said Martin. "If the student body is not interested enough to sign them, how can we expect the clubs to support our fight?"

CONCERTS SPONSORED BY MUSIC FEDERATION

At noon on Friday, November 6, in Annex B, the first of a series of Student Hour Concerts will be held. These concerts, sponsored by the Music Federation, are open to all students. There is no admission charge.

On With the Fight!

Editorial

Students of San Francisco State College have inaugurated a fight that promises to be one of the largest and most difficult that they ever have or ever will conduct.

They are attempting to form themselves into a coordinating body, an irresistible unity, in a valiant effort to secure for themselves what they feel should be theirs: decent housing conditions that would provide for them a feeling of pride in their campus. And it is not only that which we desire and are fighting to procure, it is a building that will provide for us some degree of safety from fire and earthquakes. No wonder that we are so ardently pursuing our task; no wonder that we are putting everything that we have into this fight—the results may mean a matter of life and death. Every hour that we spend in this firetrap called "College Hall" we are risking our lives. The least spark, kindled by the tinder-like wood of which the building is made up, would spread into a fire of major proportions that would surely mean the loss of lives of several of the students confined within its walls.

We have serious disadvantages to face. We are handicapped, strange as it may seem, by the fact that we are located in the heart of a big city. We share honors with other colleges for the community interest in the school and its activities and functions that are found in college towns, where the school is the center of interest in the community, where each citizen feels that he has a personal responsibility in the college. What can we do about it?

First we must organize. Would any group achieve any degree of satisfaction from its foes if it were not organized on a highly efficient basis? NO. And so we must organize in a brave attempt to impress upon the minds of the people of the city of San Francisco that this college is part of their city, that it can be a source of pride to them if it is properly equipped with satisfactory buildings and a decent campus. If we get the voters and the civic leaders of the city behind us, half the battle is won.

You may ask: "What can the individual student do?" He can join with the group, he can cooperate with the student leaders who have taken upon themselves the burden of this crusade.

So, on with the fight! Let everyone join in the crusade for a respectable building, that we may be proud to say: "Sure I'm from San Francisco State!"

I. R. C. CONCLUDES TWO DAY CONFERENCE HERE

"The International Situation in Europe" was the address given by Dr. Joseph L. Kunz, authority on international law and former professor on the subject, to the delegates of the International Relations Club convention which was held on the State campus last Friday and Saturday.

Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, representative of the Carnegie Endowment for international peace, spoke on topics of an international nature in the opening address of the convention. Paul Pahnke, lecturer in law at the University of Toledo, then closed the morning discussion by giving the delegates highlights on world affairs.

Friday morning the delegates attended a round-table discussion. The topics included "Democracy vs. Dictatorship," "The United States' Foreign Policy," and "Peaceful Exchange." Luncheon was served at noon in the Activities Room of the College.

Saturday morning the representatives met for the third and last of the series of discussions, when the committee read the results of the discussions in summarized form.

Mrs. Bertha Monroe, club sponsor, gave a last few words of appreciation for the cooperation which was given by the representatives of the colleges and universities present.

Among the colleges represented during the convention were: Chico State College, Fresno State College, California Agricultural School at Davis, San Francisco College for Women, University of San Francisco, San Jose State College and Stanford University.

A. W. S. Open House Is Set For Nov. 10

Affair Intended To Spur Interest In Outside Activities

An open house at Frederic Burk on November 10 is to be sponsored by the A.W.S. for sophomore girls, according to Dorothy Jean White, president.

The purpose of this is to interest the girls to take part in extra-curricular activities, so that when they apply for entrance into Ed. 130 they will be admitted.

The State has set up some new requirements for the Educational Department. Among these is one which requires students to have taken part in extra-curricular activities before they can teach. This is to show whether or not they have the ability of leadership.

Dean Mary A. Ward is organizing the project of interesting girls in activities and has given it to the A.W.S. to plan and arrange for this semester. In the future other organizations will handle it.

The open house will be sponsored by the Educational Department of the College, the Frederic Burk faculty, and the A.W.S. council.

The student teachers in Frederic Burk will act as hostesses in their own departments. Miss White claims that taking the girls through Frederic Burk will acquaint them with the set-up of the training school and encourage them to start being active before it is too late.

There will be a tea from two to four, and the low sophomore girls who have not been active will be on the committees for the social program.

The chairmen of the committees are: Alice Masini, general chairman of social affairs; Frances Bolander, sub-chairman; Virginia Coombs, Frederic Burk, chairman; Blanche Tovey and Viola Arani, invitations; Marie Quartararo, hostesses; S. Groner, refreshments; V. Kyriazi, program arrangements, and M. Tavalara, decorations.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for both the A.W.S. and the sophomore girls. It will help them to get acquainted with each other as well as with Frederic Burk," claimed Miss White.

Dean Ward has suggested another important aid which will be taken up by the A.W.S. in the future. It is a "Personality Development" mimeographed handbook.

This is to help girls meet the personality requirements set forth by the State for all teachers.

JUNIORS START PROM BID SALE

With the Junior Prom less than three weeks distant, the arrangements for the coming affair have reached their final stage. Posters have already appeared in the halls and tickets are on sale.

Bids may be obtained from any of the class members this week, according to Everett Parrish, who is handling this part of the arrangements.

Will Smith, publicity chairman, said he believed that the Prom would be one of the finest and best attended ever to be sponsored by the college.

Chickens' Ball Staged Here On Wednesday

Alpha Phi Gamma Event Marks Termination Of Preparatory Activity

Tomorrow night in Frederic Burk Auditorium a portion of old pre-earthquake days of San Francisco will be revived by a representative group of State students. A Chickens' Ball much the same as was presented in the bygone days will be the offering for those who attend the affair. Fourteen well-organized and colorful acts, representing some of the major clubs and organizations of the college, will appear during the course of the show.

Music Federation Board, Low Seniors, Low Juniors, Bib'n Tucker, P.E. Majors, Phi Lambda Chi, and many others have prepared acts in competition for the cup to be given away the night of the ball. Last Thursday the acts were timed and integrated into the program.

In order to correct a misunderstanding circulating about, Clarice Dechent, fraternity secretary and director of publications of the college, issued a statement Friday. Each member of an act pays one admission and one only not two as has been supposed by many. One admission lets in each member of an act and allows him or her to see the show at the same time.

Bud Decker and Howard Demeke will act as co-masters of ceremonies, concessionaires will peddle their wares, candy, gum and so on between the acts.

The program committee has promised a fast moving program sparkling with variety and music. Some of State's best entertaining talent will perform in an endeavor to cop the cup for their group.

State Cast To Journey

On Thursday of this week fourteen members of the cast of "Post Road," a helper and Miss Jessie Casebolt, the director, will journey by bus to Humboldt State College for their annual play festival.

Arriving Thursday night, the San Francisco State players will find a dinner waiting for them at the College Commons, after which they will "See Naples and Die," staged by Humboldt. Friday noon they will be entertained with a picnic by Alpha Psi Omega at the club's beach cabin. A rally dance and feed will be held Friday evening and then "Post Road" will be staged. Following the play, the cast will be escorted to an Italian Inn for raviolas.

They will return Saturday and commence working over the play for its showing at the Community Playhouse on Nov. 13.

NEW GROUP MEETS

The Westminster Club, State's newly organized Presbyterian club, will meet tomorrow at noon at the Westminster Center, Page and Webster streets. Rev. Gordan McGrane will be the speaker. Members will please notice the change of meeting date. Guests are invited.

FROM THIS SIDE

By BILL BUCHAN

Today a vital issue faces the students of the college. It is the question of the compulsory annual fee. It is a question that should be given serious consideration by every student in the college when he goes into the Associated Students office to cast his or her ballot.

Personally we would like to see the compulsory fee returned. Yet this is not the official stand of the Golden Gater. As editor of the paper and as its spokesman, we urge only one thing. That you go in and vote on the question.

The general opinion on this matter seems to agree that it will mean either one of two things. Defeat will mean the probable abandonment of annuals at San Francisco State College. Victory will mean a bigger and better book.

As we've said before, the only recommendation that the Golden Gater cares to make is this: No matter what side you take, cast your ballot.

THE BATTLE STARTS

The fight is on. The battle to secure proper development of this campus is begun. Yet it will probably be the hopeless and thankless task of a few brave souls to carry on this struggle.

It is history and we've yet to see the millenium. If the battle is won it will be because these few have hounded you for signatures on the all-important petitions. It will be cause they could "squawk" long enough and loud enough to make Sacramento sit up and take notice.

We may be wrong. We have been wrong on other occasions. Yet it seems to be a habit. So, we'll make a prediction. We'll predict that the chosen few will have to hound, beg, borrow or steal the desired signatures on these all important petitions. We'll go a little farther. We'll say that a good quarter of the students will not realize that there is a battle going on to secure a decent college. To cap the climax we'll say that the student body will not realize that they are probably the one factor that can assure success of this "so called" crusade. Their voices should be heard as far away as the legislative halls of Sacramento howling to the high heavens against the conditions at State.

We're hoping we're wrong again. We're hoping that the student body will realize just how important a part they play in this drama. Still, we don't know!

Preliminary Meeting For Track Team

New and Old Men To Discuss Season at 12:30

A preliminary meeting of track and field candidates will be held tomorrow in room 109 College Hall at 12:30 p. m.

Most of last year's squad is expected to be present, together with an array of new men of unknown caliber.

Despite the loss of three of last year's stars, Ru Stone, the man of all work; Owen Jones, consistent point-winner in the weights, and dash-man Murphy, Coach Dave Cox expects to present one of the best track teams in State's history when the season opens two months hence.

One reason for optimism is the presence of Darryl Hopkins, who high jumps and hurdles with the best of them, and who promises to better his performance of last season.

Bill Harkness returns in the pole vault and javelin throw, Bob Robinson in the 440, "Biff" Shreeve in the two-mile, Steve Ebert in the weight events, and Ralph Leavitt in the sprints.

Bob Cota and Mike Driscoll are other distance men returning from last season along with Ronald Lindlow, 440 man, but in the other events there is only one representative from the varsity squad to compete—nobody to back them up.

A large number of last season's Junior Varsity are back, however, and, with the new additions to the squad, may fill these vacancies and give State a well balanced squad.

Down In Front

By ED. SMITH

Football will reign no more after Friday nite's game with Santa Barbara State, for lo and behold it is the last game of the season. Our hope is to finish the season with a win. And it is not at all impossible with the spirit that has made itself known in the Gater lockerroom. Win, lose or draw, State will have had its most successful season with two wins, two defeats, and a tie . . . and I feel sure that there will be three wins instead of two come this Friday nite.

The casaba fans might well be pleased to know that the hoopsters will begin practice on Nov. 9. Come on up in the gym and watch them work out.

Are you superstitious? If you are you might get some help from the football team. They are holding a banquet on Friday, Nov. 13, to commemorate a season together. These banquets are the general get-together at the end of the season and where everyone can relax and talk about the highlights of the games. Coaches Dan and Hal give very good talks thanking the boys for the swell co-operation.

Next year's football captain will be elected at this dinner, and he will be honorary captain until football season rolls around. Dan and Hal will be in for a little surprise also. The secret can't be revealed.

Dan Farmer says that during football season an average of four miles of adhesive tape is used during the course of one week. Of course if he is wrong, I guess I'm stuck with it. Of the four miles used during a week, Bill Harkness, Bill Ferem, and Chet Phillips use a good per cent of the total amount. Dave Schiller has used a gallon of mecurochrome this season, proving that things are still in the red.

State Again Faces Speed

Gaters Not Overconfident

Gauchos Boast Big Tackles

Speed! Old man Speed is in our midst once more, not in the form of Mullins or Johnson; not in the form of Gilmore, but when San Francisco State meets Santa Barbara State Friday night, Nov. 6, at Santa Barbara, the speed will more than likely be in the form of Bob "Scooter" Morelli, halfback, 5 feet 3 inches tall and lightning fast, and Howard Yeager, right halfback, adjudged the fastest man in a football suit on the Pacific Coast, of the Santa Barbara Gauchos.

Undefeated and untied is the proud record held by the Gauchos, but there seems to be about thirty-five men in this school that believe the Santa Barbarans are in for a surprise this Friday night. Those men are the football squad. The Golden Tide aren't over-confident, to watch them in practice and around the school you just seem to sense something is going to happen Friday night and that it's going to be in favor of the Gators.

No other information has been obtained from Santa Barbara other than their probable starting line-up, which boasts of a set of the two heaviest tackles in American Intercollegiate football. They average 230 pounds. Besides Morelli and Yeager, the Gauchos have Dave Pollock, quarterback and Forest Gardenhire, 192 pound triple-threat fullback, who alternates with Fred Monson, 185 pound vicious line-bucker and fine defensive man, to complete their first string backfield.

Coach Farmer will make very good use of Bill Abbey at quarterback; Captain Harkness, triple-threat fullback; Gordon Bolander, substitute fullback; Dave Schiller right half and Harold Chandler, substitute, and Bob Kelnhofer at left half with Billy Hammond ready for call.

Starting line-ups for both teams and more detail about each squad will appear in Friday's paper.

TIME OUT

By TOM THORPE

DON'T FORGET

When Friday night rolls around and YOUR football team is down in Santa Barbara waiting for the kick-off, why not be down there waiting with them and rooting for them? The cost for this trip, as previously announced, is very small, in comparison with what you get in return for that ten or eleven bucks . . . the school is giving you the chance to go down, the coaches want you to go down, and the TEAM NEEDS YOU DOWN THERE TO HELP FIGHT AND WIN THAT BALL GAME . . .

THANKS!

That gadget that you see Manager Ed. Smith galloping out on the field with during time-outs, is what might be termed the "modern version of the old water bucket." It contains a certain amount of water and is operated like an air hose at a filling station, thus enabling the players to get all the H_2O they need, but not enough to cause any ill effects or to slow them down. This is a vast improvement over the bucket, because it eliminates the grabbing of the bucket, by a player, who then drinks to his heart's content, and with Smith on the giving end of the hose, you'd think he was throwing away nickels with strings on them, judging from the amount of that precious liquid he deals out to each player. The Low Frosh class was responsible for this enlarged "water gun," and it is to them that we say THANKS . . .

THAT'S THAT . . .

When Bill Abbey was nominated to captain the Frosh game last Friday, he jumped up as soon as the nomination was made and said, "Nominations closed . . . I second it, . . . and thanks a lot, fellows!" . . . Abbey must have read the "Courtship of Miles Standish," you know, where it reads, "Speak for yourself, John." . . .

roMENce

We are still wondering whether that "PEG"skin, thrown from across the Bay, will end up in the arms of Stone or Chandler, both are eligible to receive a pass, but let's hope that there won't be any interference on the part of either of the pass receivers . . .

MUCH OBLIGED, GEORGE . . .

George Mirande, Athletic Manager and letterman at State, would, if we used Winchell's way of saying thanks, receive the Orchids this week. During the construction of Roberts' Field, George was down there giving of his spare minutes by working. Whether you see George in an old pair of pants and a sweatshirt or whether you see him in a classy suit, you could almost wager your last red cent that he is doing something that would be beneficial to the College in some manner, shape and form . . . it's guys like this that make State what it is . . . and we appreciate it . . . He is also going to coach the Junior Varsity basketball team.

Editor's Brain Wave Depicts Mock Battle

Says "State Spirit" Has Beaten College's "Moaners"

By TOM THORPE

Editor's note: This paper went to press yesterday morning, so it was imposible to give a detailed account of the Frosh game played last night. However, I have endeavored to give you a "mock" game between those two forces, the spirit in a school, which is known as the "State Spirits" and those people, who, when informed that their team either won or lost, just say, "So what?" I hope you will get the point in this attempt.

Climaxing an intense rivalry, the State "Spirits" trounced the "So What's" by a score that we were unable to compute. The game ended the string of yearly victories for the "So What's." The game lasted all season and was the biggest fight that this college has ever put up and emerged victorious.

After the "So What's" kicked off (they were always the first ones to do any kicking) to the "Spirits" 45 yard line (showing how far their "kicks" go), the ball was returned to the "So What's" 3 yard line by F. Aith, sensational field general and Captain of the "Spirits," where he was tackled around the neck by Hava Gripe, Monday morning quarterback of the "So What's." On the next play Loyalty took the ball over for a touchdown on a straightforward drive, a play that the "So What's" have never used.

Near the end of the first half, which was about October 2nd (Marin-State game) the "Spirits" had piled up a score that would make the people think the law of averages hadn't been passed yet. When the gun ended the half, the "So What's" had sent so many "moaners" into the game, that the officials began wondering if it was wise to even play the "Spirits."

Around the middle of the third quarter, which was about October 9th (State-J. C. game) the "Spirits," who were still playing their original eleven men, began a series of right end runs, passes to the right, reverses to the right, thereby proving to the supporters of the "So What's" that if a thing is run right and backed by rightly spirited rooters, there is no stopping any football team that has such cooperation. This aforementioned series of plays aided and abetted the State "Spirits" to once more roll up a score even higher than that obtained in the first half.

The "So What's" had the "bawl" for the first time at the beginning of the fourth quarter, capitalizing on a fumble made by the "Spirits" on October 17th (day after Miramonte game), but after one or two days of trying to make yardage the "Spirits" woke up to themselves and regained possession of the pigskin and kept it for the remainder the affray.

Outstanding players for the "Spirits" were F. Aith, Loyalty and Co-operation. Never outstanding, but playing for the "So What's" were Hava Gripe, I. Beef and Sar Casm, bleacher coach. It seems that the "So What's" have been defeated forever and the State "Spirits" have once more got back their student body support. According to members associated with players on the 'Spirit' team, the old, well-worn and truthful saying has come back . . "When the one Great Scorer comes to write against your name, He writes not that you won or lost, but how you played the game!"

Sphinx Club Debates Sin in Cinema Harmful, Pernicious Claims Hit By Links, Atkinson on Negative Side

"The movies have a harmful and destructive influence on the morals of young children," stated Jim Hall, in his speech at the last meeting of the Sphinx Club at which he took the affirmative on the question, "Do movies have a pernicious effect on morals."

He went on to say, "Most of the pictures produced have as their theme either sex, love or crime. Not only are the conceptions of life, ideals, and standards, of children influenced by the movies, but the historical and geographic settings are often false. Young men and women pattern their social behavior, their ideas on life, and also their clothes fashions from Joan Crawford, Greta Garbo, Fred Astaire and others."

Louis Abate, also for the affirmative, quoted Judge Lindsay as stating that the impressions children receive from three hours in a movie theater often overshadow both their home and school training.

"My worthy opponents have not proven that the movies are pernicious in any respect," stated Robert Links, negative speaker, who went on to say, "There is nothing pernicious in learning about sex, or is there anything pernicious in the girls copying the clothes of the movie stars, and the boys mimicking Fred Astaire."

Cy Atkinson, also speaking on the negative side of the issue, stated, "Although the children imitate the gangsters in their games, they are usually on the side of the law; and furthermore, I don't see a great deal of difference between the 'gangster' games played now and the 'cowboy' and 'Indian' games we played when I was a kid."

"The Real Issues in the Present Campaign" will be the title of the speech to be presented by Dr. Floyd A. Cave at the next meeting of the Sphinx Club, in which he will contrast the superficialities of the issues in the present campaign with the fundamental issues that are before the people.

Migratory Labor Problems Told

Mr. Eric Thompson, Associate Regional Director of the Western Division, spoke before the Principles of Sociology and the Economies classes at eleven o'clock in room 208 yesterday.

The text of his talk was the problem of taking care of migratory labor. The Resettlement Administration is striving to give the workers who have seasonal jobs and must travel from place to place for them, better living conditions, cleaner sanitation, and to prevent them from carrying contagious diseases. They have two camps now and plan for more, according to Thompson.

Thompson will speak again next month on November 10 at 8:45 o'clock before Dr. Michell's and Mrs. B. H. Monroe's sociology classes.

Phi Lambda Initiation Held

Rushees were formally initiated as pledges into Phi Lambda Chi Sunday, October 22. Student and faculty members were invited to attend this affair.

On Friday, October 30, an informal initiation was held along with Hell Day. Masks, jack o'lanterns and anything in keeping with the spirit of Hallowe'en was apparent. The initiation took place at the Sorority house in the evening. Pledges provided the refreshments.

According to the report of Harriet White, Club president, Phi Lambda Chi has a busy program this semester. The calendar up to date reads as follows: Wednesday, November 4, a dinner in the Co-op will be given before the "Chickens' Ball." The price of this dinner is 30c. Everyone is invited. Wednesday, November 25, a meeting and Thanksgiving party will be held at the house. Wednesday, December 9, a meeting will take place followed by a formal initiation of pledges and a Christmas party.

The Alumnae of Phi Lambda Chi are selling raffle tickets for a pair of Big Game tickets. Proceeds will go toward renovations and furnishings of the house.

BIB'N TUCKER

The new Bib'n Tucker pins have been ordered and will soon be worn by members of the club.

A hayride and fashion show were also discussed by the members. Although no definite date has been set for the fashion show, it will be given some time before the Christmas holidays and will be sponsored by one of the local stores.

Parent Faculty Club Gives Field Money

The Parent Faculty club will hold its next regular meeting on November 4 at 2 p. m. in the Activities Room of the college. Dr. Alexander C. Roberts will speak on legislation, in observance of American Education Week.

Hostesses for the meeting will be members of the Kappa Delta Pi fraternity. One of the projects of the club for the term is the collection of books for children, to be distributed to various hospitals by the Kappa Delta Pi fraternity, under the direction of Dr. Sherman L. Brown.

After hearing Dean Cox, the club voted twenty dollars be presented to the Roberts' Stadium fund. This money was applied to labor in erecting the bleachers.

A card game is being planned for November 18 at 2:30 p. m. in the Frederic Burk Auditorium. All parents and friends, as well as the student body, are cordially invited.

STATE CHESS TEAM ENTERS TOURNAMENT

As the football season at State draws to its close, the State chess team rolls out a powerful intellectual team to carry the torch of inter-scholastic competition.

Captain Stella announced yesterday the following line-up will start against Mission High: J. Werchick, J. Marks, E. Moran, J. Hulbert, W. McDonald, J. Chesnut, and G. Stella. These men have been chosen because of the results of inner-school competitions. Definite board assignments have not been made as yet.

BAY BOAT TRIP, SPEAKERS ON FRATERNITY PROGRAM

By BOB BARRY

With a three-hour Bay Bridge excursion as its main feature, Kappa Delta Pi, international scholastic honor society, released its 1936-7 program today.

There will be a Parent-Faculty tea tomorrow at which members of the fraternity will be hosts; the excursion will be given on Saturday, November 7, an authorized speaker conducting the tour, which will stop at Yerba Buena Island to see the entrance to the bridge tunnel. The price will be 60c per person and reservations must be made immediately, due to the limited capacity of the boat. Members will be given preference, after which the ride will be open to the entire student body.

John McGlade, deputy superintendent of schools in San Francisco, will be guest speaker on Tuesday, November 17. This meeting, in collaboration with Education 186 at 3 o'clock in room A-210, will have Mr. McGlade discussing European conditions and their effects on education.

With the subjects of "Academic Freedom," "Attributes of a Good College Instructor" and "Is Secondary Education Progressing," an evening symposium will be held on December 9. The Activities Room will be the scene of the discussion; 7:30 p. m., the time, and Drs. Michell, Brown, Roberts, Butler and others as probable leaders.

Pledging of new members will be conducted at the home of Mrs. Alma Downey on January 6. The evening meeting will also act as a roll-call of old members, who will participate by giving short talks on their personal teaching experiences since leaving college.

Initiation of these pledges will be held on February 18 at the home of Miss Effie McFadden. Mrs. Evelyn Clement, chief of the division of teacher training and certification of the State Department of Education at Sacramento will be guest speaker.

Dr. Sherman L. Brown, professor of education, will conduct one of his famous tours of the city on March 11. At this time, the group will also have an informal dinner, as well as visiting little-known parts of San Francisco.

Final pledging of the semester will be held on April 9. An evening meeting will be held on the campus, at which Dr. Virgil Dickson, superintendent of schools in Berkeley, will probably be guest speaker.

A formal dinner and initiation is scheduled to close the activities of the next semester. Details of this will be given later.

PURE . . . and of finer texture than most anything that touches your lips . . .

We all agree on this . . . cigarette paper is important. For Chesterfield we use the best paper that we can buy. It is called Champagne Cigarette Paper. It is made from the soft, silky fibre of the flax plant. It is washed over and over in clear, sparkling water.

A lot of the pleasure you get in smoking Chesterfields is due to our using the right kind of cigarette paper. Chesterfield paper is pure, and it burns without taste or odor.

Chesterfield

They're Milder and They Satisfy

Remember this . . . two things make the smoking quality of a cigarette—the tobaccos and the paper. The Champagne cigarette paper on Chesterfields is tested over and over for purity, for the right burning quality. Another reason why Chesterfield wins.
